2. PURPOSE OF A PAIA MANUAL

On 9 March 2001, the Promotion of Access to Information Act, No 2 of 2000 became operative, giving effect to the section 32(2) Constitutional right of access to information.

One of the main requirements specified in PAIA is the compilation of an information manual that provides information on both types and categories of records held by a private body, such as SBDS Construction Consultants.

This document serves as the SBDS Construction Consultants information manual and provides reference to the records held by the company and the process to request access to such records.

The purpose of PAIA is to:

- foster a culture of transparency and accountability in public and private bodies by giving effect to the right of access to information; and to
- actively promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to more fully exercise and protect all of their Constitutional rights.

The company recognises everyone's right to access to information and is committed to provide access to the company's records where the proper procedural requirements as set out by PAIA and POPIA have been met.

The company's PAIA manual is compiled in accordance with section 51 of the Act and contains the following Annexures:

Annexure A: Contact Details
This Annexure provides the company's postal and street address, phone and fax number and, if available, the e-mail address of the MD and Information Officer of the company.

- Publishing and proper communication of the manual i.e. creating policy awareness;
- The facilitation of any request for access to information;
- Providing adequate notice and feedback to the requester of the information;

- Ensuring that access to a record, where so granted, is provided timeously and in the correct format; and
- Reviewing the policy for accuracy and communicating any amendments.

Right of Access

The Information Officer may only provide access to any record held by the company to a requester if:

- The requester complies with the procedural requirements relating to a request for access to that record; and
- Access to that record is not refused in terms of any of the grounds for refusal listed below.

Grounds for Refusal

The Information Officer must assess whether there are any grounds for refusing a request for access. Where any grounds for refusal are found, a request for access will not be granted.

However, despite finding any grounds for refusal, access to the record(s) will be provided where:

- the disclosure of the record would reveal evidence of a substantial contravention of, or failure to comply with any legislation; or
- the disclosure of the record would reveal imminent and serious public or environmental risk, and
- the public interest in disclosing record, will clearly outweigh the harm contemplated in the provision in question.

Where there are no grounds for refusal, request for access will be granted.

If a request for access is made with regards to a record containing information that would justify a ground for refusal, every part of the record which does not contain and can reasonably be severed from any part that contains, any such information must, despite any other provision of PAIA, also be disclosed to a requester.

SBDS Construction Consultants will notify the requester in writing should an extension be sought.
